NOTES:

- a: This list does not typically include a local calendar (such as a local bike club's) unless that calendar lists much more than the club's local rides.
- b: Many of the sites above you enter info via an on-line form. Some go live immediately, others are reviewed prior to getting posted.
- c: For a few there is a .doc document to download that needs to be returned after it is completed.
- d: Many ask to send ride/event info to a specific person. These contact persons email addresses are under the event calendar url.
- f: Check your local TV station's web site. Many have a community calendar for listing local events that will be displayed on TV typically up to 3 weeks prior to it taking place. You can either directly add an event via their web site, or they'll list a fax number or mailing address to submit an event to.
- g: See if your local bike club will list the Ride in their calendar.
- h: As a rule of thumb, a ride should be submitted no less than 1 month in advance, but the earlier the better.

CODES:

- 1: For Active.com & ActiveEurope.com, will need to register as an event director. Can post separately as a listing or an event with registration.
- 2: For Bicycling Magazine, will need to register as an event director, (also, it states the event as a "Race", but the actual listing won't list race, unless that's what you submit as.)
- 3: For the League of American Bicyclists, will need your personal or club membership # and password.
- 4: For the CTC, download .doc form (only lists 2006's), for Everyday Cycling & League of MI Bicyclists, download .doc form and follow instructions on submitting.
- 5: Velo News, Mostly races, but also a number of tours are submitted.
- 6: For Bike Boom LA, email Webmaster, (I found no way to add an entry, no " + " entry like Bike Boom Orange Co).
- 7: For Bike Boom Orange Co., Minn. Bike & Ped. Alliance and Missouri Bike Federation, click on " + " symbol at upper right in calendar date to add an event.
- 8: For Bicycle Colorado.org, BikeJournal, Iowa Bicycle Coalition, Oregon Bike Magazine, Portland Bike Forums, Road Bike Review, Spokes.Org.UK, Team Estrogen, Texas Bike Coalition, will need to be a member or club member to submit an event.
- 9: For BikeReg.com, will need to register as a promoter. Can post separately as a listing (closed registration) or an event with registration.
- 10: For BikeCal.com, will need to register as a ride director to post ride.
- 11: For the Running Network, will need to register as an event director to post ride.
- 12: For Cycling Forums, must be a member and as of 2/15/07, 2007 isn't in the drop down list of years.
