NOTES:

- a: This list does not typically include a local calendar (such as a local bike club's) unless that calendar lists much more than the club's local ride, or a calendar that is strictly racing events.
- b: Many of the sites above you enter info via an on-line form. Some go live immediately, others are reviewed prior to getting posted.
- c: For a few there is a .doc document to download that needs to be returned after it is completed.
- d: Many ask to send ride/event info to a specific person. These contact persons email addresses are under the event calendar url.
- f: Check your local TV station's web site. Many have a community calendar for listing local events that will be displayed on TV typically up to 3 weeks prior to it taking place. You can either directly add an event via their web site, or they'll list a fax number or mailing address to submit an event to.
- g: See if your local bike club will list the Ride in their calendar.
- h: As a rule of thumb, a ride should be submitted no less than 1 month in advance, but the earlier the better.

CODES

- 1: For Active.com & ActiveEurope.com, will need to register as an event director. Can post separately as a listing or an event with registration.
- 2: For Bicycling Magazine and the Running Network, will need to register as an event director, (for Bike Mag., it states the event as a "Race", but the actual listing won't list race, unless that's what you submit as.)
- 3: For the League of American Bicyclists, will need your personal or club membership # and password.
- 4: For the CTC, download .doc form (only lists 2006's), for Everyday Cycling & League of MI Bicyclists, download .doc form and follow instructions on submitting.
